GROVE CITY, Ohio – For the first time since 1993, the Fraternal Order of Eagles (F.O.E.) has seen an overall membership growth. The F.O.E. achieved the goal on Wednesday, May 29, after posting a daily gain of 352 members to push their yearly total over the Net Gain line.

For years, the F.O.E. suffered from a fate similar to that of other popular fraternal organizations, seeing numbers steadily decline, however a recent commitment to refocusing on retention has separated the F.O.E. from those trends to see membership growth once again.

“We’ve put a lot of time and effort into making this achievement possible and it brings me great joy to see us reach our goal this year,” said Grand Worthy President Carl Burnett. “I personally want to thank all of our members for buying into our vision and working hard at the local level to recruit new members, keep existing members and set our organization on the path to success.”

The new Dues Reminders program through the Grand Aerie has helped the F.O.E. turn around its retention numbers, reducing the membership deficit at the start of the year that has hindered previous campaigns.

In the years prior to the new Dues Reminders program, dropped members were surveyed to find out more about the reasons behind their decisions to leave the organization. A significant portion of members were unintentionally having their membership lapse after reporting they hadn’t received notification of upcoming expiration.

The new program ensures all members receive multiple reminders in the months leading up to the expiration date, as well as during the 30 day period after. During its first year,

A similar plaque will be permanently on display inside the DRC to honor Ginny.

The program resulted in a substantial decrease in drops, with this year’s numbers trending toward a similar outcome.

Following the May 31 end of the fraternal year, the Eagles posted a final Net Gain total of +994 for a total of 687,204 members.

“This effort has been years in the making,” said Grand Madam President Althea Lane. “It was a joy to be on the road this year seeing all of my Brothers and Sisters reaching out to their various networks to recruit new members and open the doors of our Aeries and Auxiliaries to so many wonderful new faces.”

Membership is the driving force behind the Fraternal Order of Eagles and its nearly 3,000 Aeries and Auxiliaries. This renewed focus on Net Gain is allowing many clubs to thrive once again and adding new life to the Fraternal Order of Eagles Charity Foundation, which donates more than $10 million annually to a variety of local and national organizations.

While 2018-19 has been a banner year for the Eagles, there’s still work left to do. Aeries and Auxiliaries are encourage to continue reaching out to prospective members and filling the ranks in order to see this newfound growth into the future.
