In the coming months, Eagle Village will unveil a bigger, better recreational center for residents, members, and guests to enjoy.

The project, which has been under construction for the last few months, will feature more than 5,000 sq. ft. on the inside, and 1,200 sq. ft. for the covered deck outside. The rec center will feature one large open space for gatherings and celebrating events, such as birthdays and holidays, instead of the old structure’s multi-room layout.

The new rec center will include resident lockers, pool tables, bingo, a kitchen with a serving window, and will be fully handicap accessible. The building is also hurricane rated.

According to Eagle Village Operations Manager Keith McGrath, the old rec center was torn down because it had served its purpose and it was time to invest in a new one.

Since 1961, five additions were made to the old building, and the gathering space was split into two rooms. Eagle Village decided they wanted a singular, cohesive space so they re-designed the center so it will be more inclusive for the community.

McGrath has been overseeing the construction of this project, and he is excited to see the new building come together. “It’s something that will benefit all Eagle Village residents and members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles,” he said.

March for Metavivor

On October 10, Grand Worthy President Carl Burnett and his wife, Sylvia, marched to the U.S. Capitol building with more than 200 supporters of his special charity, METAvivor, to raise awareness for Stage IV metastatic breast cancer and ask representatives for an increase in funding for the disease.

Brave women and men fighting the disease were able to visit staff of various Congressmen from across the country, sharing their stories and explaining how their support for upcoming legislation could have improve the quality of life of those suffering.

The event, held annually by METAvivor, helps to provide a face to the fight against Stage IV metastatic breast cancer and played a significant role in a $2 billion increase for metastatic cancer funding by the National Institute of Health over the last year.

Carl and Sylvia teamed with survivors from Texas and Ohio during the congressional visits to thank current supporters for their efforts to increase funding and to encourage those who have yet to sponsor legislation to sign on for the fight against metastatic breast cancer.

The unique experience provided our Grand Worthy President with an inside look at how funds raised for the GWP project in 2018-19 will be used to improve countless lives through vital medical research grants.

Last Call for Auxiliary Hall of Fame Nominations

The Alta Browning Smith and Hall of Fame Awards are prestigious honors presented at the International Convention each year. A recipient is chosen each year for the Alta Browning Smith Award by the Grand Madam President. This form or one in story form should be submitted by the State/Provincial Auxiliary after a sister has been approved on the floor by the State/Provincial Auxiliary Membership. The Grand Madam President looks at both dedication and service within the Fraternal Order of Eagles as well as within her community. The Grand Auxiliary Hall of Fame Awards are presented each year during the Ladies’ Auxiliary Banquet. The recipients will receive a plaque and their name will be engraved on the plaques located in the Grand Aerie and Auxiliary Headquarters. Nominations for both are due by December 1. Please include as much information as possible on the sisters you are nominating. Neither forms are held over on a year-to-year basis. Any rejected forms from previous years will need to be resubmitted.
